

Small change changes lives.

Imagine the opportunity to help build our community with what amounts to little more than spare change. That's exactly what each member of Henry County REMC can do when they choose to participate in the Operation Round-Up program.

What is Operation Round-Up?

Members of Henry County REMC have the opportunity to participate in an innovative program that provides funding for all kinds of worthy projects in the Henry County REMC service territory. It's called Operation Round-Up and it is administered by a five-member committee who serves on a voluntary basis.

How does funding work?

The bills of participating co-op members are rounded to the next highest dollar each month. The extra cents we collect from each member go into the Round-Up fund. The average member will contribute about $6 a year. If all Henry County REMC members join in, we will round up more than $45,000 annually!

Operation Round-Up funds stay in the REMC service territory. The guidelines we use for awarding Operation Round-Up funds address needs for food, shelter, clothing, education and other vital community services. Because we're a Touchstone Energy Partner, we believe it's only right that we should work for positive change within the communities we serve. We consider it both a duty and a privilege to join with our members in leveraging the real power - the power of human connections - for the good of all.

Contributions to Operation Round-Up are tax deductible. Henry County REMC also will use every available means to keep members informed whenever Round-Up contributions are made.

The history behind Round-Up.

Operation Round-Up was conceived by Palmetto Electric in 1989 and has grown into a goodwill movement receiving enthusiastic praise and participation from electric cooperatives throughout the country. Over 200 electric co-ops in the United States now use Operation Round-Up to raise money for charitable causes within their own service areas, just as we do in ours.

Donations will not be made to:

- Out-of-the-area organizations or for-profit organizers selling tickets, advertising services or merchandise on behalf of a local organization.
- Political causes or lobbying.
- Projects of religious denominations, unless it is absolutely clear the expenditure is directed to the benefit of the community-at-large and is not limited or offered primarily to members of that denomination.
- Repairs and improvements to private property or that of religious denominations.
